Dear Sir.

Would it be too much trouble for you to let me know the value of the 1911 or 1913 ~~five~~ cent piece I'm not sure which one it is. but Mr. Robertson told me one of these was valued at $50.00. Also is an 1899 silver dollar of any real value.

I would like, some day, to see Mr. Robertsons coin collection, which he told me was one exhibition in the museum. Do you suppose this would be possible?

Thanking you in advance for any information you may gave me, I am

Yours very truly

Mrs. Edna F. Ekstrand, 157-11 Sanford Ave.,
Flushing, L.I.

Dear Mrs. Ekstrand:

A 1911 5¢ piece has no premium nor does the 1913 piece if it has a bufflo on it. The really rare one has a Liberty head and the Roman V on the back but there is no need of anyone looking for these as only six were made and all of these pieces are known.

The 1899 silver dollar has no premium unless it is brilliant, uncirculated, as it left the mint. If it is dull or shows signs of wear it is worth only a dollar.

Any time you wish we can show you your brother-in-law's collection of Swedish coins which we purchased from him in 1929. Trusting you will come in and see me sometime, I remain,

Very truly yours,

Curator
